

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

Can't you see how media homogeneity leads to ignorance? Without an informed market, market diversity can't occur because the market then dictates the available information. Please ensure that corporate interests do not gain control of our information infrastructure and limit the power of the media conglomerates. Do not let the corporation become an entity similar to the church of the dark ages.
